PRESIDENT WHITE WILL RETIRE

Rev. C. L. Fowler Elected President of Lexington College.

The Trustees of Lexington College, Wednesday elected Rev. C. Lewis Fowler of Clinton, South Carolina, to the presidency of that well known institution, to succeed E. W. White.

The new president is a graduate of Furman University, Greenville, S. C., and also of Newton Center Theological Seminary. He is eminently fitted for the responsible position to which he has been called. He is a native of North Carolina, and comes very highly endorsed, both as a school man and a preacher. His term of office will begin June 1, 1911.

Mr. White retires from the presidency after nearly eleven years of administration. The college through all its history has never had a more conscientious, capable and successful president than Mr. White. He has labored earnestly for its advancement and has brought it to a high place among the woman's colleges of the state. Besides his college work he has taken an active interest in public affairs, and has grown to be considered an intelligent and safe counselor on all questions effecting the city's welfare.

Death of Joseph J. Jones.

Joseph J. Jones passed away Tuesday night at eleven o'clock, after a six weeks' illness of heart trouble.

Joseph Jones was born March 24, 1868, three miles south of Lexington, and was in his forty-third year. Seven years ago he moved to this city and made his home with his aunt, Miss Martha Wood, 118 North Eleventh street. Mr. Jones' occupation was that of a farmer and a machinist.

If there is such a thing as a man having a surplus supply of friends, this man had them. He was a man with an open countenance and a warm heart.

Joseph Jones is survived by two sisters, Mrs. A. T. Smith of Thomas, Oklahoma, and Mrs. J. W. Shouse of Eldorado Springs, Mo.

The funeral was held Thursday afternoon at two o'clock from the home of his aunt, Miss Martha Wood, 118 North Eleventh street. Rev. R. B. Briney conducted the services.

Louis Weibel Dead.

Louis Weibel died Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock at the home of his sister, Mrs. Eli King. Mr. Weibel was 46 years of age and unmarried. He is survived by one brother, Henry Weibel of Jefferson City, and two sisters, Mrs. Julia Jacques and Mrs. Eli King of this city.

Caris Walk went to Kansas City Thursday morning to spend the day.

Mrs. Upton Wilson Dead.

Mrs. Catherine D. Wilson, wife of Upton Wilson died Saturday morning at 1 o'clock from paralysis at her home on Washington avenue. Mrs. Wilson had been an invalid for several years, and her death, while not unexpected, came as a shock to her family and friends.

Mrs. Wilson was the daughter of the late Stephen D. Neill, and was born in Lee county, Virginia, on May 27, 1832. In 1837 her parents moved to this county and settled near Higginsville. She was married to Upton Wilson on May 3, 1855, and moved to Kentucky. In 1867 they returned to Missouri, locating at Warrensburg, where they lived until 1889. In that year they moved to Lexington where they have resided since. She was the mother of four sons and one daughter which are as follows: Stephen N., and Matthew D., of this city, L. Fry, of Folsom, New Mexico, Mrs. Lee Hawkins, of Mangum, Oklahoma, and Charles. The latter died about twenty years ago. She is also survived by a brother, John F. Neill, who lives near Higginsville.

Mrs. Wilson was one of the most faithful members of the Presbyterian church of this city. Her life was all that characterizes the life of a true Christian. Her home was her citadel where her love, her kindnesses, her solicitude for her family and friends, was indeed beautiful. She was a true mother and in that sphere of influence, her life was ideal. She gave freely of her strength and love to every one coming within her reach, and in her death the world has lost a noble woman.

The funeral was held Sunday evening at two o'clock. Xenophone Ryland conducted the services.

J. W. Boogher Dead.

John Wallace Boogher died Monday afternoon about five o'clock at his home one mile south of Lexington. Mr. Boogher had been in a failing condition for many years. He had taken to his bed some time ago and Monday afternoon quietly passed away.

Mr. Boogher was born in St. Louis May 27, 1868 and was in his 43rd year. He established himself near Lexington about 15 years ago, and in 1898 was united in marriage to Miss Allie Hulver, to whom two children were born and survive, a girl 12 years of age and a boy 3½ years of age.

The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon at 11 o'clock from the Boogher home, one mile south of this city.

Barron's Grocery Moved.

The Barron grocery which has heretofore been on the corner of 11th and Franklin avenue, has been moved to Main street in the room formerly occupied by the Cole grocery. Barron's grocery has always enjoyed a liberal patronage, and its change to a more advantageous location will no doubt be a means of increasing its clientele. The store is managed by Con Barron, who is an experienced grocerman and one who enjoys the confidence of the public at large.

C. A. Keith left Wednesday for Norfolk, Virginia, on a brief business trip.

Ike Noyes spent Thursday in Higginsville on business.

L. G. Peak went to Kansas City Wednesday evening on a brief business trip.

FOR JUDGESHIP

A Former Lexingtonian Announces His Candidacy.

James Quarles, a former resident of this city, has announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Judge of the First division of the Chancery branch of the Jefferson Circuit Court, of Louisville, Ky. Mr. Quarles is one of the leading attorneys of Louisville, and his popularity is attested by a signed request of 150 members of the Louisville bar that he make the race.

Commenting upon Mr. Quarles' candidacy, the Louisville Courier-Journal says:

"It is a pleasure to publish the announcement of James Quarles' candidacy for Chancellor. Without varying from its policy of taking no part in any contest among Democrats for a party nomination, the Courier-Journal freely joins in the tributes to his character and qualifications which are being paid him by his fellow-citizens of all political affiliations. Measured by any standard of temperament, ability or acquirement, he ought to make an ideal Judge; and the Courier-Journal has no fear that he will disappoint that estimate of him should he succeed to the place now held by Judge Bingham.
